Funding

Context

OHCHR's global funding needs are covered by the United Nations regular budget at a rate of approximately 40 per cent, with the remainder coming from voluntary contributions from Member States and other donors. The United Nations regular budget, approved by the General Assembly every two years, is funded by "assessed contributions" from each Member State according to a formula that takes into account the size and strength of its national economy. Since the 2005 World Summit, when Member States committed to doubling the funding for OHCHR, there has been a gradual increase in the Office's portion of the regular budget. For the 2012-2013 biennium, US$177.3 million was allocated to OHCHR, compared with US$151.6 million in 2010-2011, US$120.6 million in 2008-2009, US$83.4 million in 2006-2007 and US$67.6 million in 2004-2005. While the upward trend in financial support from the regular budget for human rights work is welcome, the proportion of the overall United Nations regular budget devoted to human rights, even after the recent increases, remains at just 3 per cent of the total UN budget.

Until 2008, the level of voluntary contributions to OHCHR steadily increased from US$41 million in 2002 to a peak of US$120 million in 2008. Contributions dropped slightly to US$118.1 million in 2009 and more sharply to US$109.4 million in 2010, before making a slight recovery in 2011 and 2012 to a level of US$111.1 million. In 2013, however, voluntary contributions increased by nearly US$10 million to reach US$121.2 million. The share of unearmarked funding followed the same pattern, rising from 7 per cent in 2002 to 56 per cent in 2009, dropping slightly to 54 per cent in 2010 and 51 per cent in 2011, then slightly increasing to 53 per cent in 2012 and 54 per cent in 2013. Approximately 56 per cent of all voluntary funding was used in 2013 to support work in the field, which receives very little support from the regular budget. The remainder was distributed between other areas of the Office's work, often supplementing the limited resources available from the regular budget and enabling the Office to achieve a far greater impact than would otherwise have been possible.

Who Funds OHCHR?

The table overleaf lists, in descending order, all donors that voluntarily contributed in 2013. As was the case in previous years, the overwhelming majority of voluntary contributions came from Member States which provided a total of US$101.3 million, or 83.5 per cent of all contributions. International organizations, including the European Commission and UN partners, contributed an additional US$19.6 million, or 16.2 per cent, of all contributions.

Level of contributions

While voluntary contributions slipped from US$120 million in 2008 to US$109.4 million in 2010, they increased to US$121.2 million in 2013 after stagnating at $111.1 million in 2011 and 2012. Additional income, including interest and miscellaneous income, brought the total available income in 2013 to US$122.2 million.

With expenditures amounting to US$127.6 million in 2013, OHCHR had a shortfall of US$5.4 million; the fourth year in a row that actual income was lower than expenditures. Compared with 2012 when the shortfall amounted to US$25.9 million, the 2013 funding gap was very small. Nevertheless, as has been the case since 2010, the situation was offset with the surplus balance accumulated in previous years.

Current funding challenges have been a major component in OHCHR's decision to engage in a review of its priorities and budget from 2013 onwards in order to address the increasing demands it is facing in light of its limited resources. At the same time, OHCHR has decided to invest in enhanced external outreach, performance management and fundraising. While 2013 has seen an increase in funding, it is still too early to say whether the investments made to date will result in sustainable funding. All efforts continue to be made to adapt the work of OHCHR to the current economic environment, while at the same time, more demands and new mandates are being imposed on the Office by the international community.

Number of donors

After a slight decrease in the number of donors contributing to OHCHR in 2012, efforts made to expand the donor base resulted in a small increase in the total number of contributors to the Office in 2013. OHCHR received financial support from 78 institutional donors in 2013 (including 71 Member States) compared with 74 donors in 2012 (including 68 Member States).

Of the 71 Member States that contributed in 2013, 29 were members of the United Nations Western and Other Group (WEOG), 15 were from the Asian Group, 12 were from the Eastern European Group, 10 were from the Latin America and Caribbean Group (GRULAC) and five were from the African Group.

Donor base to OHCHR in 2010, 2011, 2012 & 2013, broken down by regional group

Regular budget versus voluntary contributions

Overall, 44 per cent of OHCHR's funding came from the United Nations regular budget (compared with 42.5 per cent in 2012) and 56 per cent came from voluntary contributions (compared with 57.5 per cent in 2012). The slight increase in regular budget funding reflects additional resources which were allocated to cover the cost of part of the new activities mandated by the Human Rights Council in 2013.

Earmarking

While the overall funding to OHCHR increased by close to US$10 million in 2013, the proportion of funding free of earmarking increased marginally to 54 per cent of all contributions, or US$65.5 million, representing an increase from 53 per cent, or US$58.5 million, in 2012.

OHCHR requires flexibility and autonomy in allocating resources and therefore seeks unearmarked funds from donors. OHCHR donor and external relations officers continue to use every appropriate opportunity to persuade donors to contribute more unearmarked funding, resulting in 54 donors providing at least part of their support free of earmarking. Among these donors, some increased the proportion of their funds provided in 2013 without earmarking (including Algeria, Bahrain, Bulgaria, Costa Rica, Denmark, Estonia, the European Commission, France, Germany, Guyana, Italy, Mexico, Monaco, Montenegro, Mozambique, Norway, Romania, Slovakia, Slovenia, Sweden, Switzerland, the United Arab Emirates and Uruguay).

Predictability

Predictability of funding was reinforced due to the negotiation of new multiyear funding arrangements with Belgium, Norway, Sweden, Switzerland, the United Kingdom and the Ford Foundation. In 2013, OHCHR had multiyear funding arrangements in place with 10 donors, including eight Member States (Belgium, Canada, Finland, Norway, Saudi Arabia, Sweden, Switzerland and the United Kingdom) and two foundations (Education Above All and the Ford Foundation).

In-Kind Contributions

A few Member States, in particular Colombia and Qatar which host OHCHR offices in their countries, provide some support to OHCHR field presences by covering items such as rent of premises, utilities and vehicles.

Junior Professional Officers

Some Member States also provided OHCHR with additional indirect financial support by contributing to the United Nations Associate Experts Programme, which is administered by the Department of Economic and Social Affairs in New York. As of 31 December 2013, OHCHR had 27 associate experts (also known as Junior Professional Officers) who were supported by the following governments: Austria, Denmark, Finland, France, Hungary, Italy, the Republic of Korea, Netherlands, Norway, Spain, Sweden and Switzerland (see table).
